HOW TO USE THIS MANUAL

Welcome to Mission Opportunities for Nurses! The purpose of this manual is to help you find a good fit for you and your nursing skills.

One of the best ways to use this manual is to start with the table format section. The first column of the table is divided into areas of the world (eg. Africa, Asia, etc.) Under each area, there are health facilities that want nurses to come and work for them. Some health facilities desire short-term and others long-term commitments.

Go horizontally along the top row of each table and find your specialty. See what health facilities are in need of your specialty. After finding the places that desire your skill, go through the manual and find that facility. Each facility gives an overview of their work, the opportunities that are available, length of stay, cost, and who to contact.

The last table of the section provides a list of sending agencies. These agencies send nurses to multiple countries each year. Most of the trips are short-term visits from one week onwards. If you are interested in going with one of these agencies, you can write to them and get their calendar of trips for the year.

We are praying that you will find just the right place to use your nursing skills to serve Him.

IMPORTANT THINGS TO CONSIDER WHEN SELECTING A MISSION ORGANIZATION

FOCUS	If you feel a call to a specific place find an organization that works there.
STRATEGY	Choose an agency that has the type of ministry focus you are called to do.
MAKEUP	Select an agency with your specialty.
THEOLOGY	Know your beliefs and match these with the agency you are considering.
EXPERIENCE	Is the agency experienced in what it is doing?
SUPPORT	Is the agency supported by the denomination or is it faith-based in which they train their missionaries in fund raising?
SUCCESS	Is the agency growing or shrinking?
MANAGEMENT	Centralized or decentralized. Decentralized gives more control to the field.
CULTURE	Some foster close relationships while some find it difficult due to size, geography or other factors.
OPENNESS	Will the mission let you go and experience their work through short-term missions? Will they answer your questions?
PSALM 37:5	Commit everything you do to the Lord. Trust Him, and He will help you. (NLT)

These points are taken from the Christian Medical and Dental Association (CMDA) publication; Your Call, July 2018, author Dr. David Steven

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: I am not a nurse or a doctor, can I still volunteer for a medical mission?

A: Yes! Many medical organizations have needs that non-clinical people can help with, so if you feel a calling to a particular mission, give them a call to discuss. Some mission organizations ask volunteers to complete a personal information and/or skills checklist to help match your skills and interests to specific project assignments. Remember that God is looking for those who are available and ready to serve.

Q: What's the difference between the information in the Mission Opportunities for Nurses booklet and Mission Hospitals booklet?

A: The Mission Opportunities for Nurses booklet is very specific for nurses and includes what specific nursing training and degree a hospital or organization prefer. The Mission Hospitals booklet is a list of organizations who have expressed they will often receive both medical and non-medical volunteers. Nurses only need the Mission Opportunities for Nurses booklet.

Q: How do I get started?

A: Spend time in prayer, asking God for direction on selecting and serving in a mission. Call the mission organization that you are considering and ask questions. Ask to speak with persons who have served in the mission recently, to get information about recent experiences.

Q: What are the costs associated with a medical mission?

A: Costs are different for each mission opportunity, but generally include costs associated with air/ground travel, housing, food and water.

Q: How will I pay for my medical mission trip?

A: Volunteers typically pay for their trip themselves or fundraising from friends and family. The mission organization will let you know if any scholarships exist to help volunteers cover the costs of the trip. The costs associated with the trip are generally paid in advance.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (CONT'D)

Q: Will I be safe while I am on this mission trip?

A: While there are inherent risks associated with traveling abroad for mission projects, mission organizations have safety and security processes in place to protect volunteers. It's important to be informed of these processes and follow them.

Q: How long do volunteers serve?

A: Project length is different for each mission, some projects can be as short as one to two weeks, while some projects may require that volunteers serve for one month or longer.

Higher Institute of Paramedical Training

Gamboula, Central African Republic

OVERVIEW

Gamboula Hospital is a 200-bed, full-service hospital. The ISFP nursing school trains diploma-level RNs in a 3-year program. Both are located in the village of Gamboula in the very under-developed country of Central African Republic.

OPPORTUNITIES

Participants would be involved in teaching nursing students (both clinically and in the classroom), and would learn about tropical medicine and the challenges of providing care with limited resources. The participant would have the rich experience of being part of Central African villagers, Central African professionals and missionaries. The opportunities for outreach are endless - both within and outside of the medical ministry.

Additional Important Information: French and Sango are the national languages. The nursing school is taught in French, so knowing that language would be a real plus. As most of our nursing students are men, we are currently especially seeking a Christian male nurse to come join our teaching staff.

Africa Inland Mission

Peachtree City, GA

OVERVIEW

Africa Inland Mission (AIM) is a Christian mission sending agency with a heart for Africa's unreached peoples. Our desire is to see the worship of Jesus Christ spread across the continent of Africa – through individual lives fully committed to him and collectively through Christ-centered church communities. Through God's grace, calling, and power, Africa Inland Mission is overcoming obstacles to make inroads and make disciples among Africa's remaining unreached, wherever they may live – from the center of the continent to the cities of Europe. And through leadership training and mobilization of African missionaries, we are strengthening and partnering with African churches as we together engage the unreached and look forward to seeing Christ-centered churches among all African peoples.

OPPORTUNITIES

Participants will use their medical training to work in locations amongst unreached people groups. We have opportunities in rural clinics and urban hospitals as well as nursing from the front porch on various outreach teams. But in all locations, we use our professional backgrounds as a tool to build relationships and share Jesus with those who don't have another opportunity to hear.

Our greatest needs are for nurse educators and community health educators.

SIM

OVERVIEW

SIM has been launching Christian workers into ministry around the world since 1893. From church planting to medicine, and education to sports ministry, SIM desires to see the body of Christ in all places, among all peoples, to the glory of God. To this end, SIM is committed to making disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ in communities where He is least known. With around 2,000 missionaries representing over 60 nationalities, SIM ministers in 70 countries on six continents. Our multi-skilled teams from around the world serve together to respond to need, proclaim the gospel, and equip the church. Among them are many health care workers who share the love and compassion of Jesus as they care for the suffering and train new providers - in community health outreach, clinics, hospitals, and beyond..

OPPORTUNITIES

Nurses will have the opportunity to observe many primary and tropical pathologies in the main hospital facility, visit a nearby rural community, as well as remote healthcare locations in the interior of Angola.

Crossing cultures and building relationships while being the hands and feet of Christ is a large part of what SIM team members will experience. The realities of the medical mission field and its limited resources will be evident, but as part of a long term mission that reaches beyond just medicine, you will feel like you are part of something bigger where God is at work transforming the lives of others.
